Literacy

This week in Literacy we have started our new text by Satoshi Kitamura called Stone Age Boy. The children made predictions at the start of the week thinking about what the story might be about, using clues from the front cover to help them. After reading the story, we ordered events and used our best adjectives to describe settings in the story

Numeracy

We have started a new aspect in Numeracy this week - measuring time. All children have done fantastic work on telling the time to o'clock. We have now moved on to recognising the time to half past the hour. Some children have also been reading the time to quarter past and quarter to the hour.

Team meerkats took Sports Day by storm on Wednesday!

All the children were fantastic sports, cheering on their friends and trying their hardest in all activities. The adults in Class 12 are so proud of each and every one of them!

Don't forget!

Friday 27th: Great British Picnic! 10.30am - 1pm

Wear red, white and blue and join us for a picnic!
