

Newsletter 4th April 2025 Class 3

This week in Class 3 we were so excited to go out on our trip to Blists Hill Museum. Mrs Broster was really proud of everyone. They were so well behaved and sensible. They were interested and asked really good questions and they were really brilliant listeners too. The trip was a real success. The children visited the post office with our guide Hugh, who then helped us to find Goldilocks' house and the bakery to deliver letters that we told the post mistress we would help her with. At the bakery we were rewarded with some gingerbread biscuits to share.

Then Hugh took us and showed us how to create a rainbow candle and all the children made one, the adults did too.

In the afternoon we went and explored Blists Hill on our own. We went down to the school and although it was closed we were still able to explore the tiny playground that children from the Victorian times played in.

We were able to tickle the nose of the horse that pulls the omnibus. We listened to the man telling us how candles were made and then we went to the sweet shop where Mrs Broster brought some sweets for us all to share and then it was time to go back to school as we were all so tired.

This week we have continued to read our story of The Little Red Hen and we made our own bread. It was a great success particularly because the children were so brilliant at kneading their dough for a whole 10 minutes until the timer went off.

Have a great weekend
