

Children have continued to enjoy our ice cream parlour role play area this week. We have exchanged coins for ice lollies and made our own ice lollies. Other activities in Sensory Explore have included big painting outside on flattened cardboard boxes, cereal and custard mix, shaving foam and cornflour.

In Literacy we are reading 'I am Hungry' by Michael Rosen and we followed verbal instructions to make icing and decorate gingerbread men.

We have started a 'Weaving' module in art where we explored lots of different media that might be woven in subsequent sessions.

Children had a fantastic time in outdoor school yesterday and we made a tent, banged sticks into the ground, waved ribbons and jumped in water.

Children have begun thinking about the names of our external body parts in 'My Relationships' this week. They really enjoyed songs with a 'body' theme.
