

This week, in my topic, we have been learning where our food comes from. The children have been exploring where we get meat and vegetables, and how they are farmed and grown.

In my outdoor learning, we read the story 'Animal Tracks' by Arthur Dorros. The children then had to find the different animal tracks hidden in the forest area and decide which animal had left the tracks.

In literacy this week, we started our new story 'I am hungry' by Michael Rosen. The children had to predict what our story might be about and what might happen. The children came up with some very imaginative ideas.

In my cooking, the children have been looking at electrical equipment in the kitchen and how to stay safe.

Have a lovely weekend,
