

Owl's

26.09.26

The children in Owl's class have had a fantastic week.

In numeracy, the children have continued on their new topic based on place value. The class have been working on place value to 20, 1000 and some children have been working on numbers up to 10,000. In addition, the children have been using the interactive whiteboard to support their learning.

In literacy, the children have been reading their new text, 'The Street Beneath My Feet' by Charlotte Guillian and Yuval Zommer. The children are enjoying finding out what is beneath our feet. We have discovered skeletons, storm drains and artefacts. The class have made their own world model where they have built up the different layers and some children have accessed our class tunnel and they have found a range of artefacts that they have described.

In topic, the children have continued with their 'Active Planet' area. The class have been learning about volcanoes and earthquakes.

Have a great weekend!
