

Dragonflies 9.10.26

We have been developing our understanding of phonics and our own targets. We have been really enjoying spreading in cooking lessons. We have been making rain makers and different noises connected to weather. We have been using water play to explore flooding and ice to explore melting. We made our own pretty rain clouds in attention autism. We have been working on regulation strategies in our zones of regulation to help us feel calm and happy. In outdoor school we made autumn themes crafts and spotted leaves changing colour.

A few children still haven't got PE kit and outdoor clothing in school for outdoor school, could we please ask parents to send them in as this is a crucial part of our curriculum. Thank you for your continued support.
